

Statement of purpose and goals - Tom Bischopink

My name is Tom Bischopink and I am studying industrial engineering at Albstadt-Sigmaringen University in Germany. I am looking forward to absolve a semester abroad at Korea University. My majors are mechanical engineering, business and production management, which I successfully passed with good academic records. Therefore I want to take specific courses on these subjects to enhance my qualification as an industrial engineer at Korea University. Moreover studying at Korea University would of course improve my knowledge of English and communication skills. Furthermore I would like to learn new people from South Korea and from all over the world, which is very exciting.

Korea University has established an international exchange program which allows students from all continents to take part on this phenomenal program. In addition to that, Korea University is the third best university in South Korea, which makes it very attractive for young students who want to increase their qualification on the global market. Apart from the fact that Korea University is one of the leading universities in the country, South Korea has so many things to offer. You experience a new culture, meet new people and see exciting places. Moreover living in Seoul, the capital of South Korea, with nearly ten million citizens, seems very thrilling and challenging.

To sum it up, one can say that a semester abroad at Korea University would enhance my qualification as an industrial engineer and would give me new life experiences, which is arguably excellent for my career and my future.
